

Access License for iOS Device (ALFS 270-0)

Product Details:

In the home, around the home or anywhere else in the world, The Siedle App monitors the threshold of your home. It receives the door call, provides a moving video image, establishes a speech connection and opens the door naturally with all the benefits of built-in security.

The iPhone or iPad becomes the indoor station of the door intercom system and at the same time also the control center for the home. The Siedle App internally establishes a connection to other Access users and permits the operation of Siedle Access control and automation functions.

The variable transmission rate which adjusts to the available bandwidth and connection quality takes care of stable connections both through the WLAN or the mobile phone network.
