

Electronic Door Handle (IDORSS-CX6172)

Product Details

The Clex door handle is compatible with many US lock standards. It is suitable for both new buildings and existing objects, and thanks to its timeless, simple stainless steel design, it adapts to every environment. The reader unit with communication electronics as well as the mechanics and the power supply is located directly in the door handle. These include for example: ISO card and key fob.

- Time switches/day access
- Permanent engagement (toggle function)
- Can be connected to the IDS module CX6934
- Suitable for all wood, steel, and aluminum doors with narrow or wide frame
- 1 battery CR123A, 3V, in housing accessible from the outside
- Up to 141,000 actuations during one battery life cycle. The last approx. 1,000 realizable actuations of one set of batteries are accompanied by an acoustic signal
- Up to 25,000 key/lock authorizations are programmable
- Up to 512 events in the door handle can be logged
- Up to 32 holidays can be programmed
- Automatic switch over from summer time to winter time
- 5,296 locking groups
- Pre-equipped for Bluetooth connection
- Engagement time programmable from 1-15 seconds
- Versions for MIFARE transponder available